The name of our yearbook, THE COMPASS, was selected because it is a word which, like students, grows. In childhood it is a lovely two pronged device for describing circles. Later at the scouting or exploring age, a compass becomes an instrument of endless fascination for determining directions by means of a magnetic needle. Gradually the word compass grows to mean the boundary of an area, the limits, the sweep, the capacity, and the space within those limits. As North Cross upperclassmen, the word compass has grown to have countless meanings so that we can understand what was meant in the epistle to the Hebrews.

> Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us, . . .
>
> Hebrews 12:1

He's a happy boll weevil on a cotton barge.

Annual Staff.

"Drag the slow barge, or drive the rapid car."

"Something attempted, something done."

We the SENIOR CLASS of North Cross School, Roanoke, Virginia, being of sound mind and disposing memory do hereby publish and declare this as and for our Last Will and Testament, hereby revoking and declaring void all wills at any time heretofore made.

SECTION I: Lynn Bailes, John Milne and Steve Shimchock leave to Ed Mattern their love of engine lore in hopes that he will not bore his dates.

Caroline Babb leaves a friendly shadow to some deserving Junior girl.

Greg Spencer leaves his battered hat, coal buttons and carrot nose to next year's snowman.

Linda Taylor leaves the Steeles her endless supply of extemporaneous excuses for tardiness in hopes that more teachers believe them.

Rick Dunlap leaves his spring rose and noise horn to Kim Carmichael.

Mary Deibel leaves her paragon of virtue to Elizabeth Bailes.

Jimmy Bowman and Rick Brown leave their commissions in the Japanese Royal Air Force to anyone who can soar high enough to fly.

Bill Tice leaves to follow the career of Liberace.

Judi Shaw leaves school for a milkshake at Kenney's . . . but returns for basketball practice at 3:45.

Jon Henley leaves his photogenic eyes to Herbie Moore.

Alison Jolly leaves the spirit of his rambunctious, ramshackled ram to the marinated marlin.

Emily Gooch leaves a box of pink, pickled, fickle pills to any girl who can take the lead.

Gary Loftis leaves a depleted supply of ankle tape to Johnny Minor.

Cindy Willis leaves next year's Senior girls her hour-glass figure with the hope that all the sand won't run to the bottom.

Don Sommardahl leaves Ed Mattern a portable rail to put around his parked car.

Field Jones leaves Lee Trout a roll of flowered toilet paper in hopes that her decorations will be as effective as his.

Beth Connelly leaves her love for eye make-up and exotic hair-do's to Anne Palmer.

Paul and Gordon Carmichael leave to Bruce Jacobson their combined wisdom and intuitiveness in hopes that he will make the proper use of them.

SECTION II. We, the Senior Class leave to:

Mr. McLeod -- a class of 30 omits;

Mrs. Gaskins -- a quiver of arrows to use with her Cupid bow;

Mrs. Jones -- the inspiration she will need to pour those lovely Latin lessons into the questionable minds of next year's students;

Mr. Stuart -- a Spanish dancer;

Miss Dodson -- a "Do It Yourself Annual Kit";

Mr. Crockett -- a new musket to go with his coonskin hat;

Mr. Beasley -- a "Bob Beasley Build Your Bod" outfit;

Mr. Bell -- a portable medicine chest to house his ascorbic acid and mouth wash;

Mrs. Faris -- a bale of hay for her archery set;

Mrs. Jennings -- a book on how to speak French with a southern accent;

Mr. Petteruti -- notebooks full of incorrect assignments and the tests we loved so well but failed so often;

Mr. Nickerson -- an honorary membership to the Class of 1966;

Mr. Johnson -- the endless admiration of the Senior Class.

In witness whereof we have hereunto subscribed our hands and affixed our seal to this our Last Will and Testament on this day of May 1966.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council, operating under its new constitution this year, was responsible for a conserted effort to achieve unity within the school and to take a vital role within the community. The council sponsored trips to various athletic events, Campus Corner at the morning recess, refreshments at home games, payments on the scoreboard, four major dances, and Christmas baskets for needy families. The Student Council was also active in the initiation of projects such as the Pep Club, beautification of the school, and the RAIDER'S DIGEST, our new student handbook. Under the guidance of Mr. Alan McLeod and the capable leadership of President Rick Dunlap, the organization joined the Roanoke City-County Student Council, a step toward becoming a functional part of the community through greater interscholastic unity.

Millions of staff meetings . . . inevitable deadline panics . . . all day Saturdays . . . literary experience.

This year the annual staff has worked hard to produce a microcosm of everyday life at North Cross. The staff combined efforts to name our annual, to establish a theme, and especially to edit a collection of memories that every student can carry into the future.

The Scarlet Letter

THE SCARLET LETTER staff, again under the expert supervision of Mr. George Bell, enjoyed a most active year successfully publishing six editions. The newspaper has increasingly become an excellent source of school information as well as a sounding board for student opinions and creativity. Editor-in-chief, Mary Deibel, was greatly aided by a competent staff which was spearheaded by Editorial Editor Judi Shaw, Feature Editor Martha Hooker, and Sports Editors David Abbe and Jerry Sexton. Continuing in the past tradition, interested students attended the Richmond Journalism Conference to gather valuable experience in the field of news reporting.

THE SCIENCE CLUB

The 1965-1966 Science Club, led by Mr. Davy Crockett, has accomplished much in light of its small membership. At bi-weekly meetings members viewed films, worked on projects, or discussed current developments in science. Some projects of this year included an advanced study of plants and animals, a relief map, and a vacuum pump. It is the hope of the science club that with continued dynamic leadership, it will attract a stronger contingent of members to share their knowledge and appreciation of science.

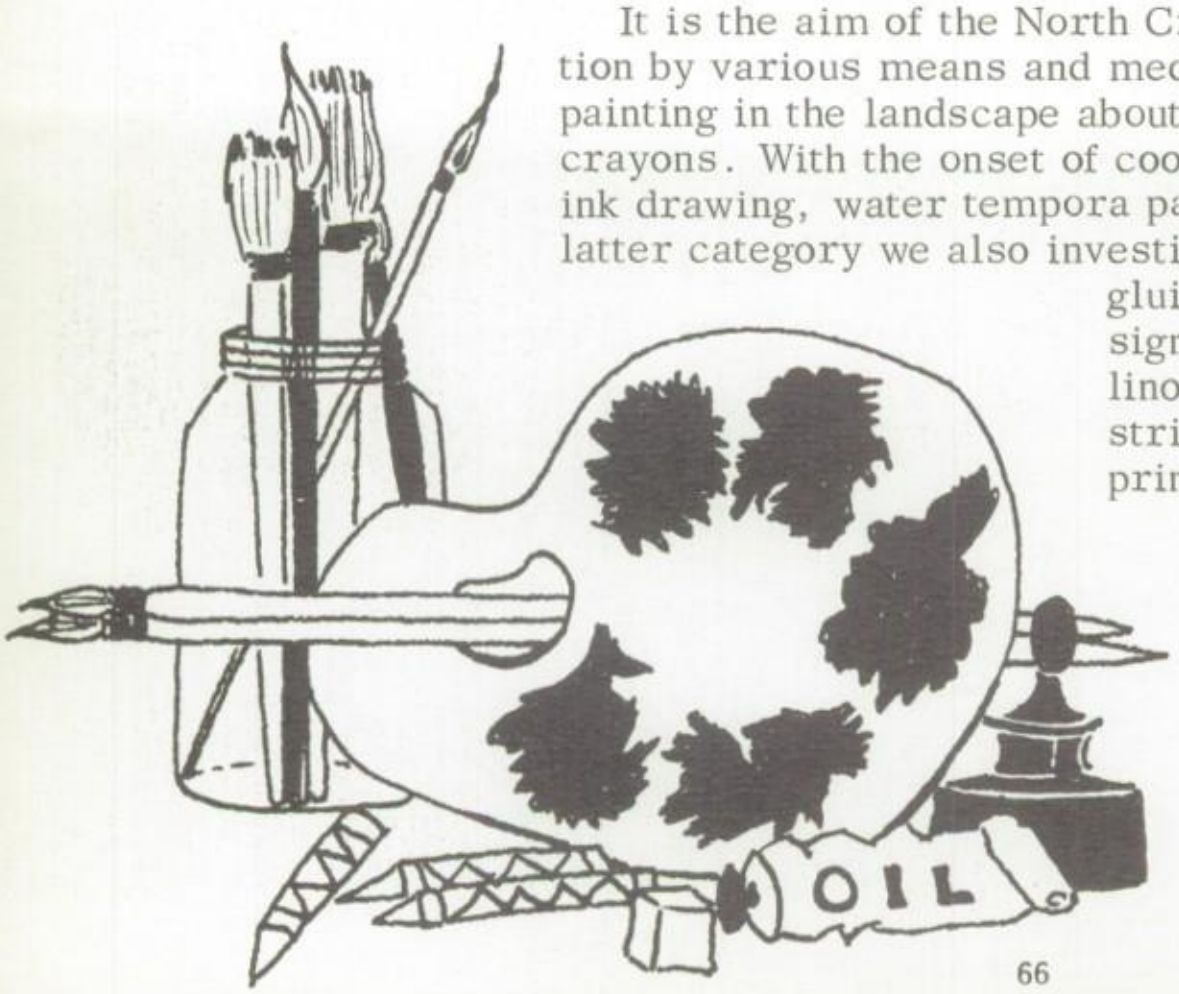
ART CLUB



It is the aim of the North Cross Art Department to study composition by various means and media. In the warm fall days we started by painting in the landscape about the school with pastels and special crayons. With the onset of cooler weather, we studied still life by ink drawing, water tempora painting, and collage techniques. In the latter category we also investigated the expression of textures by gluing various materials in abstract designs. We are learning the procedures of linoleum block printing in not only the strictly pictorial field, but also in cloth or printed tapestry patterns. Despite the limited physical means of the art area, we aim to give a feeling for the dynamics of basic composition and a feeling for the expression of textures in painting and drawing.

DRAMATICS CLUB

The Dramatics Club, with a larger membership than last year, attempted a new and successful approach to the fall program. The preparation and presentation of three one act plays afforded nearly every member the opportunity to tread the boards. In addition, one of the plays was selected to present on television as part of the Junior League Spotlight program.

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club, reorganized at the beginning of this year, was under the direction of Miss Diana Thomason. Actively participating in the Christmas program and spring music festival, the group concentrated their talents on the more contemporary aspects of the art. With the aid of talented pianists and guitarists in the club, folk singing was initiated in the music program in a year of active participation.

BAND

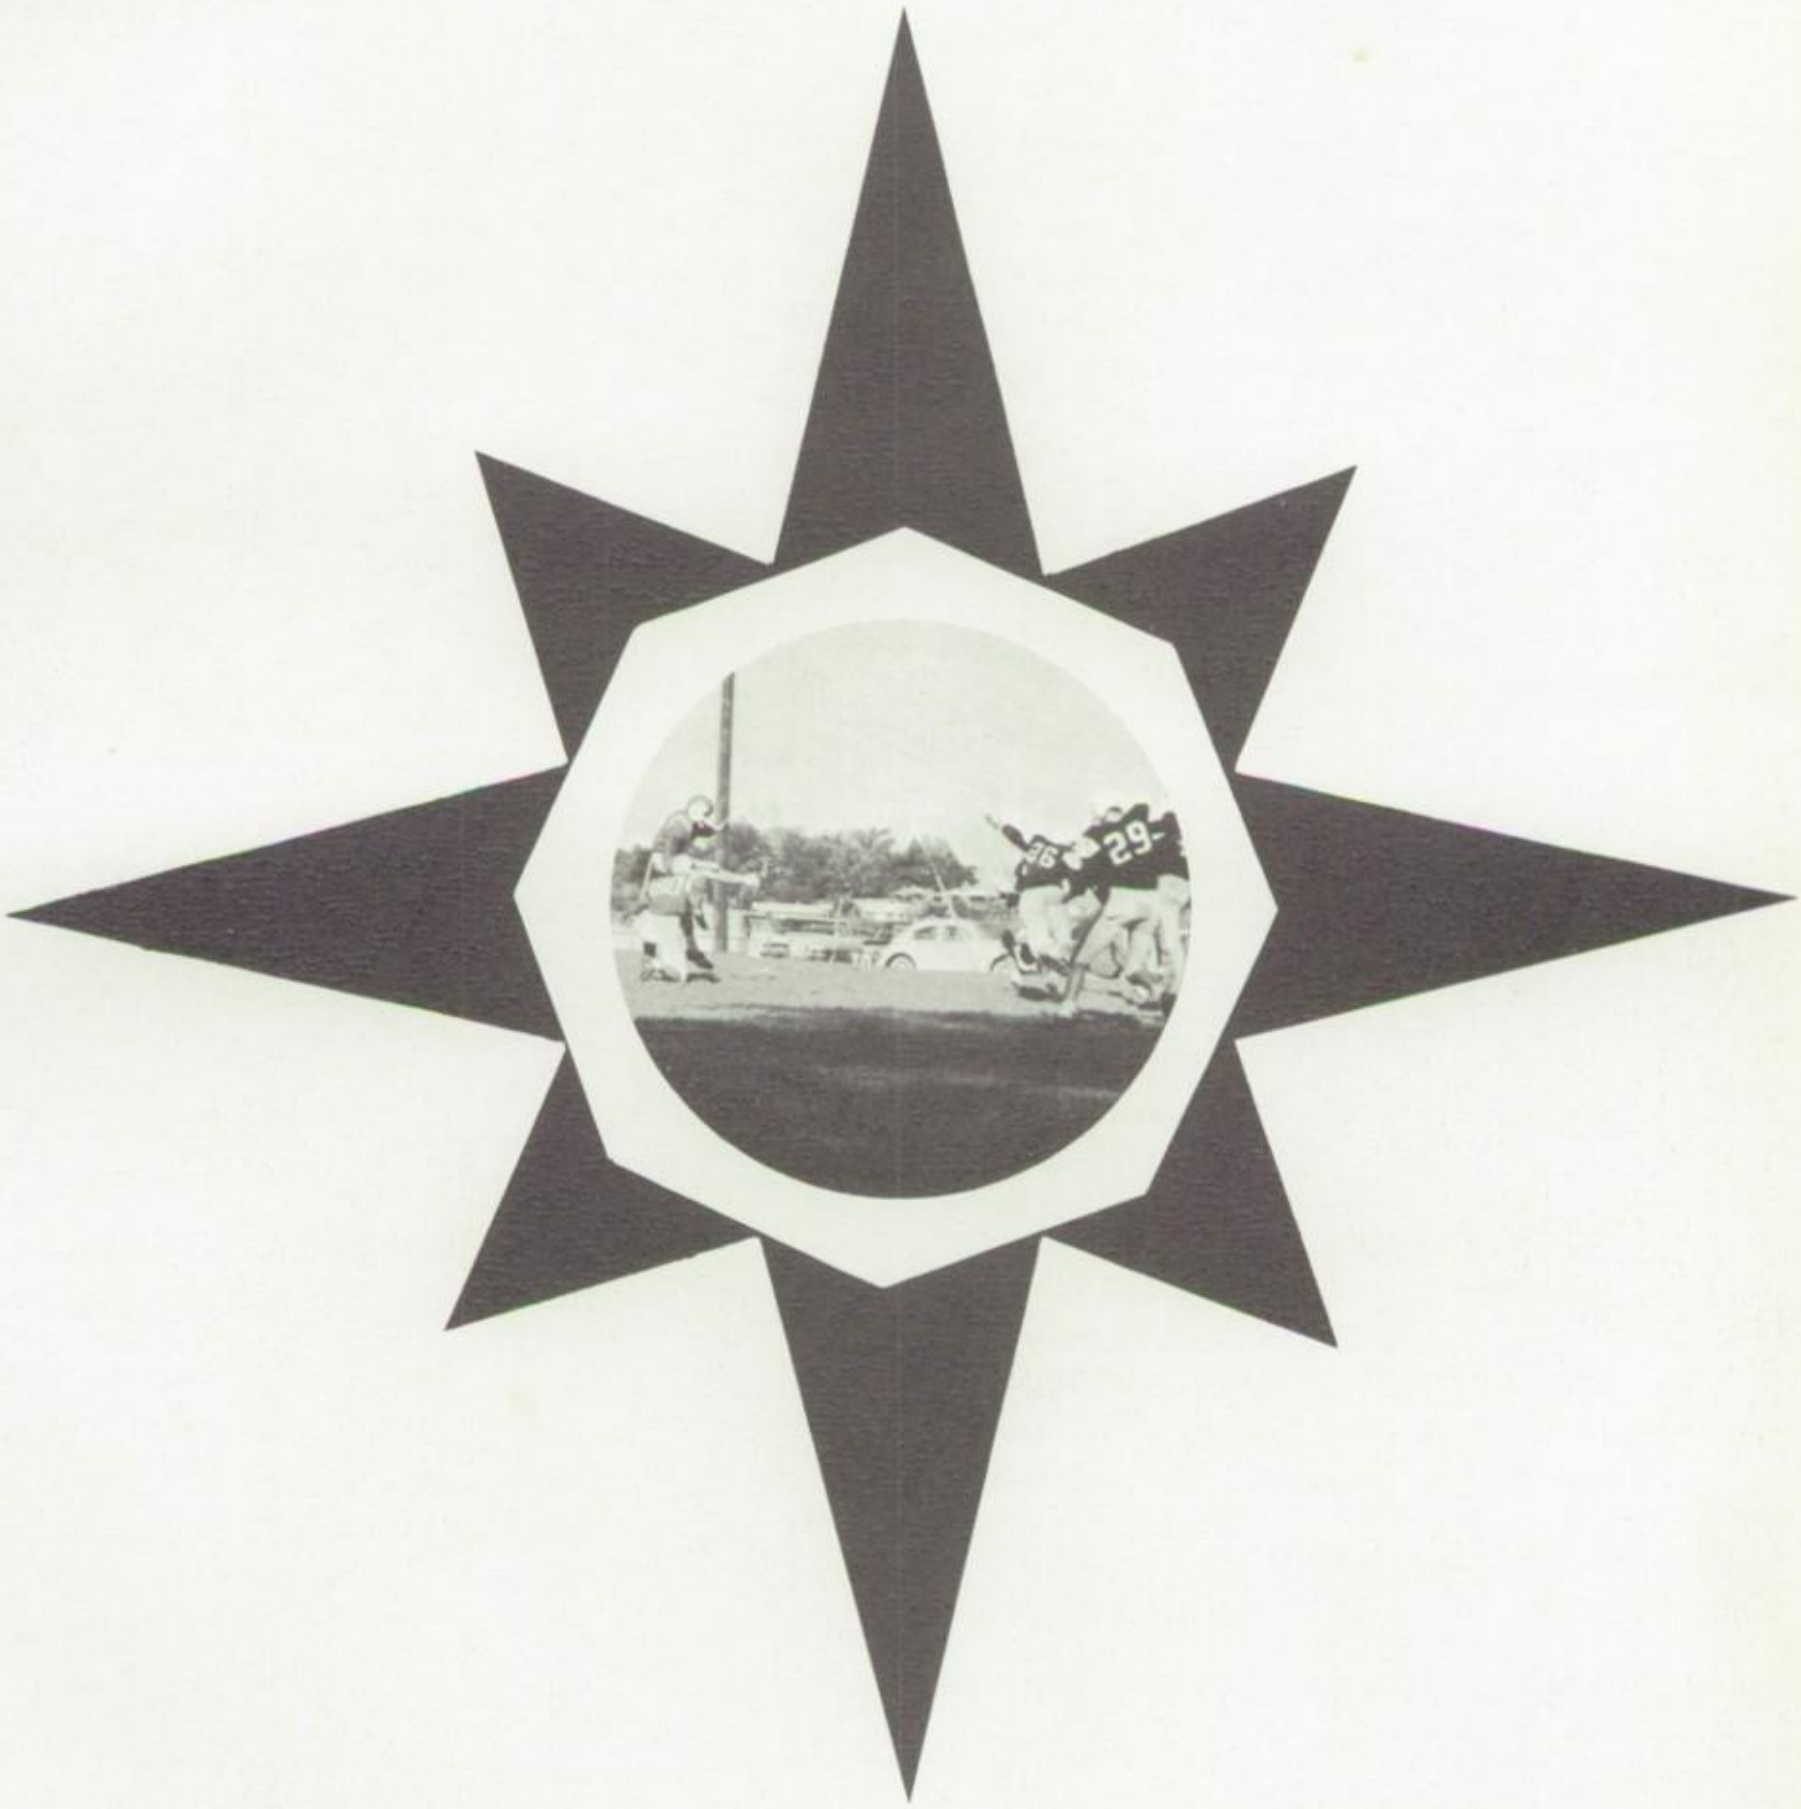
This year North Cross, in an attempt to make its extracurricular program more flexible, gave a group of interested students permission to form a band to meet on a bi-weekly basis. The only prerequisite for joining the club was that members be interested in sharing the experience of playing instrumental music as a group.

Mark Levine, Robbie Rasmussen, Robert Weaver, Dexter Ross.

PEP CLUB

In its first year at North Cross, the Pep Club seems to be a smashing success. Organized by a group of enthusiastic and long-winded students with various vocal attributes, the club promotes good sportsmanship, and provides an outlet for school spirit and unlimited encouragement for the Raiders. This informal organization is led by two appointed cheermasters Jimmy Bowman (left front) and Rick Brown (right front).

ATHLETICS



CRIMSON

KNEELING: Walton Rutherfoord, Stuart Scott, Ronnie Shiflett, Eric Jones. STANDING: Gordon Fish, Manager; Jimmy Bowman, Jon Henley, Kirk Kirkland, Alison Jolly, Greg Spencer, Jimmy Hopkins, Dick Watson.

Led by co-captains Field Jones and Jim Bowman, coached by Mr. Beasley and Mr. Stuart, the Raiders showed great determination and skill throughout the season.

The team will suffer greatly with the loss of four strong linemen and three excellent ball-carriers, but it is assured that their places will be filled with other members of the team.

The Raiders finished the 1965 football season with a 2-4-1 slate, a very respectable record considering the strength of this year's opposition. As long as the desire and determination shown by the team continue to be brought out on the gridiron, no season could be considered a losing one.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The North Cross varsity basketball squad has achieved great success this year, obtaining our first 500 season. Another first for the squad was their participation in the Second Collegiate Invitational Tournament.

Under the guidance of Coach Johnson and co-captains Field Jones and Gary Loftis, the Raiders have been constantly improving, developing into outstanding sportsmen and fine athletes.

The leadership of the senior line-up will be greatly missed next year; but a majority of the team will be returning, giving us reason to look forward to another successful year.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

The junior varsity basketball squad, while not compiling an inspiring won-lost record, made monumental strides in the mastery of the fundamentals of the game. It is to their credit that they maintained a high level of interest and spirit throughout the season; and with the prospect of many returnees for the 1966-1967 season, hopes are high for a better record in that campaign.

GOLF TEAM

By posting a 13-3 record and defeating each team on the schedule at least once, the 1965 golf team became the most successful varsity team yet to represent North Cross. With four men consistently shooting in the seventies, opposition found it difficult to cope with the Raiders' depth.

Highlights of the season were a 17 1/2-19 1/2 victory over arch rival Roanoke Catholic, a 21-6 victory over Group IA powerhouse, Patrick Henry, and a 14-13 tension packed decision over State Group IB champion, Cave Spring.

Individual honors went to Don Sommardahl and John Minor, who posted average rounds for the year of 77.1 and 77.7 respectively; and to Frank Smith, who led the team with 37 individual points won.

With six of last year's top seven golfers returning, North Cross looks with high hopes to the 1966 season.

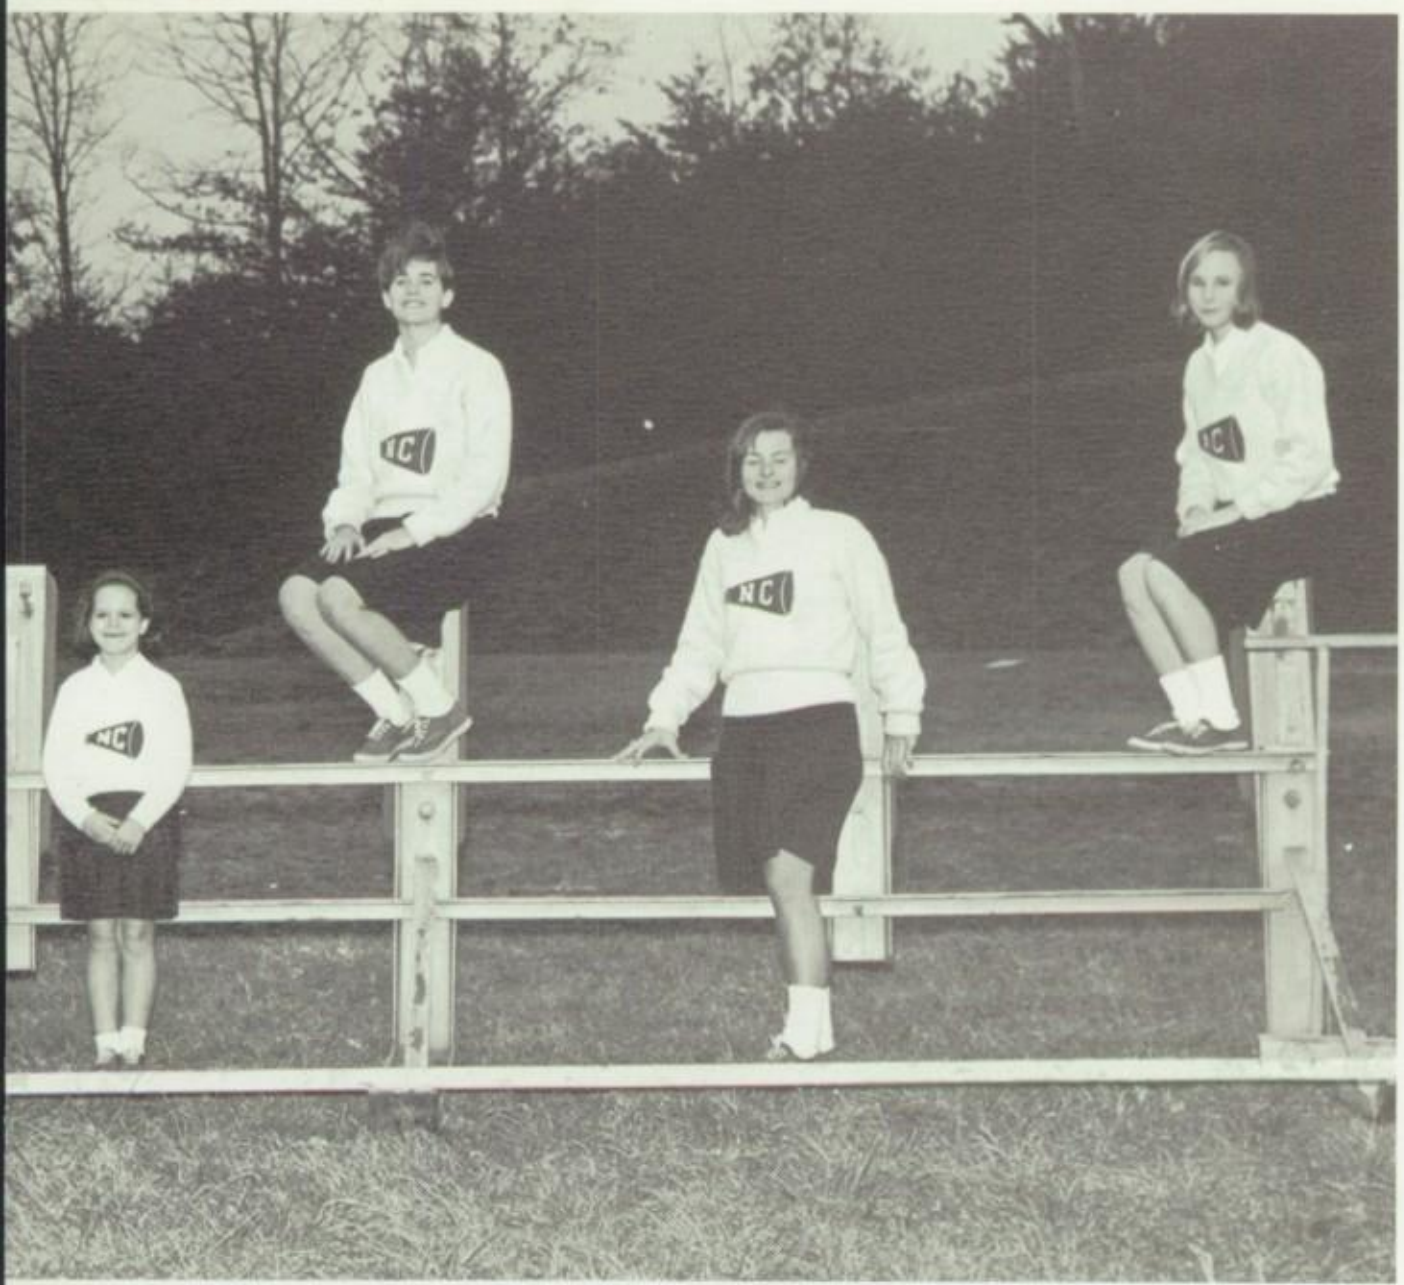
JUNIOR VARSITY

Brenda Beatty, Linda Steele, Head Cheerleader; Ginny White.

"Wherever you go, you know I'll go . . .," a well-known song, was the theme of the 1966 varsity cheerleaders. Encouraging North Cross on, these seven enthusiastic girls, accompanied by mascot Susan Hopkins, loyally followed the varsity athletic teams. The cheerleading squad was always present regardless of whether our team was suffering a slight defeat, or was marching valiantly on to victory.

In addition to promoting school spirit and good sportsmanship at football and basketball games, the varsity cheerleaders participated in the Heironimus Cheer Rally,

CHEERLEADERS



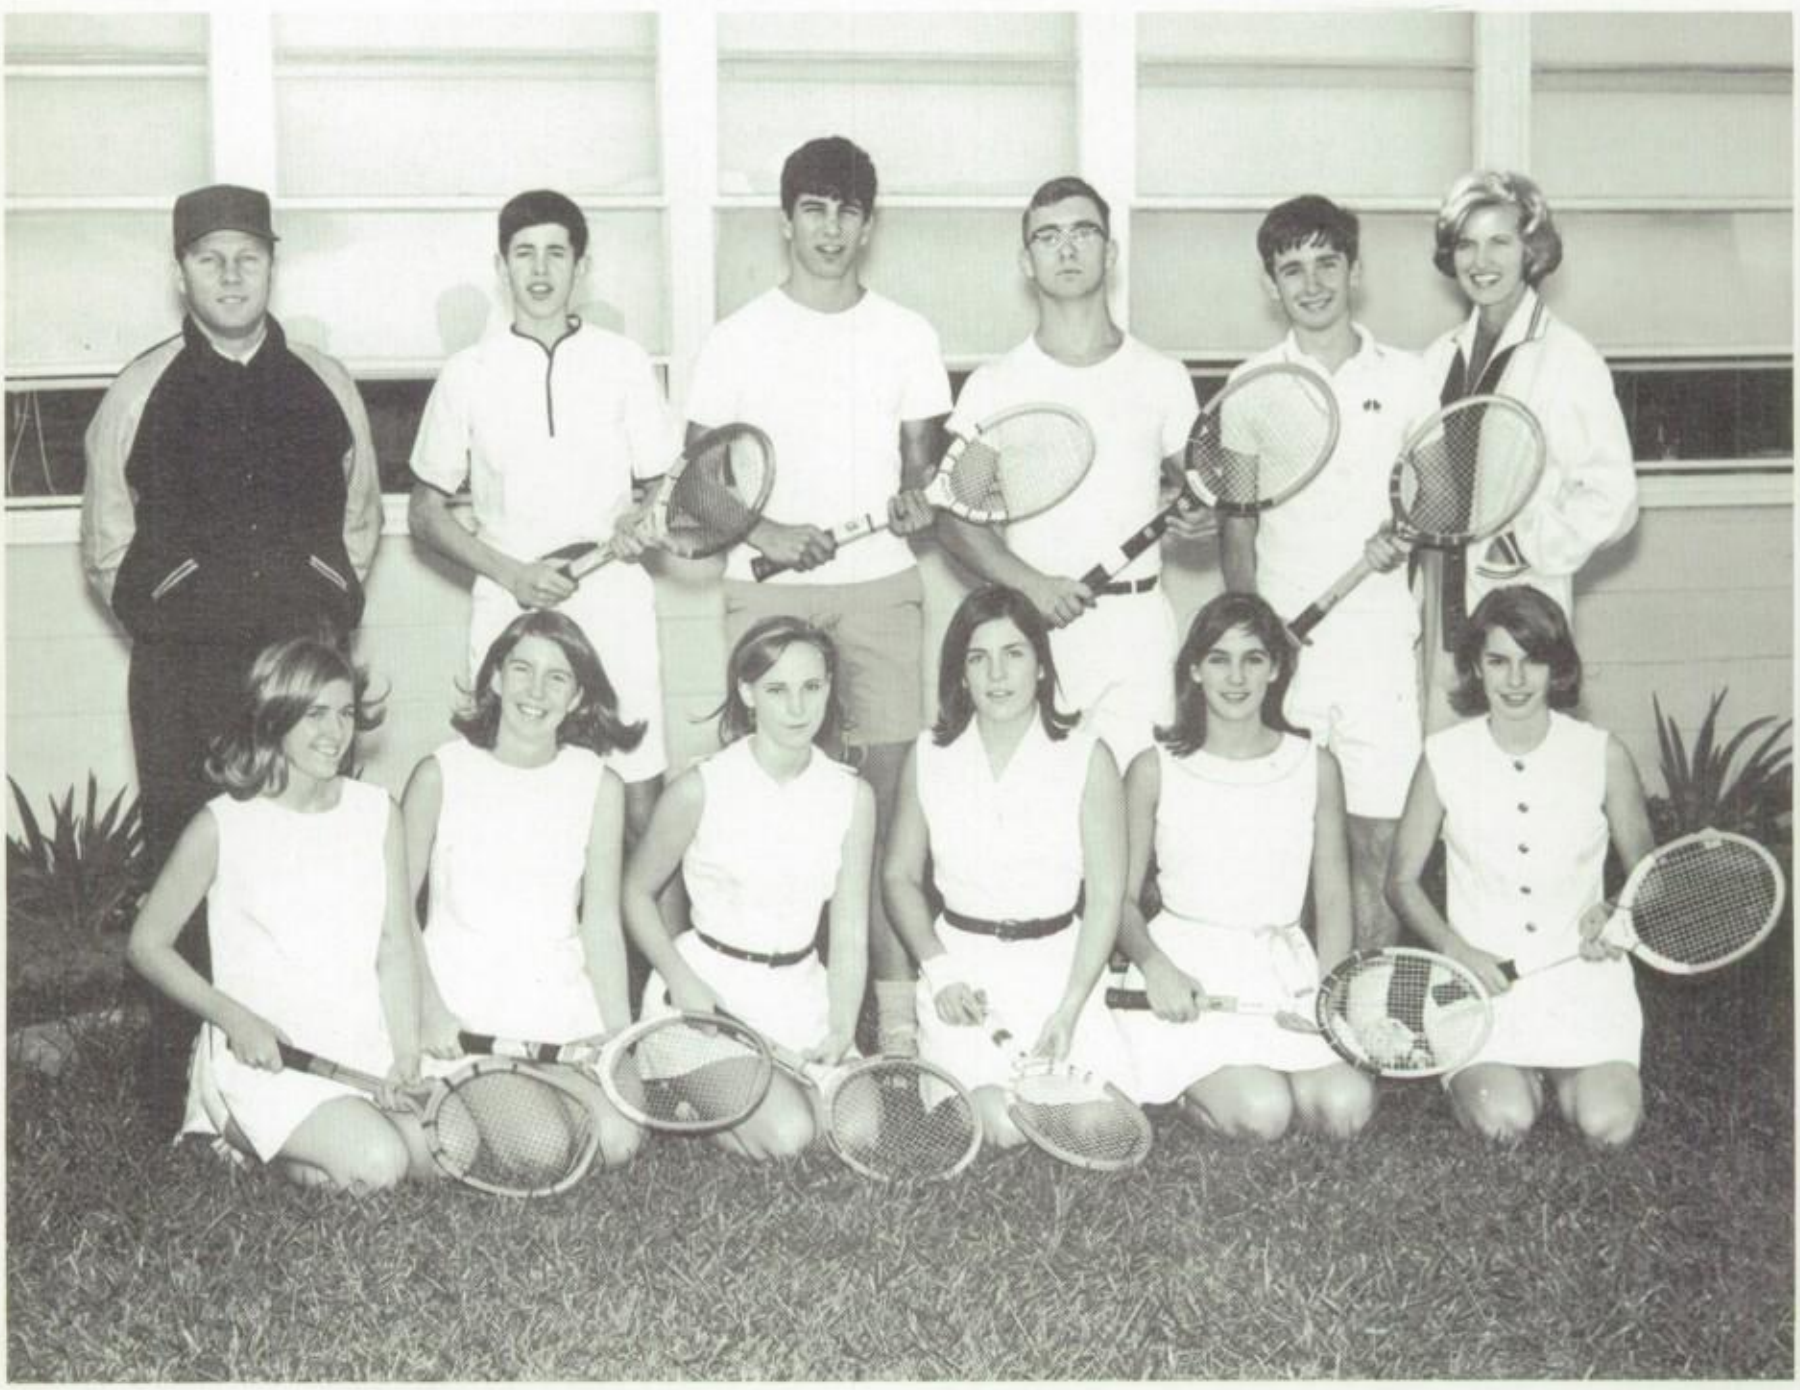
November 19, 1965, with cheering squads from seventeen other schools.

For the first time in North Cross history, junior varsity cheerleaders cheered the junior varsity basketball team on to victory. The seven girls were coached by Mary Deibel, who taught them many new cheers. They paid for their own uniforms with funds raised from the sale of football programs and bake sales. The girls' enthusiasm made up for their lack of experience. This year the junior varsity boys had full time support at their games from their own cheerleaders.

JUNIOR VARSITY

Mary Bowers, Ellen Watts, Linda Valleroy, Aloris Forbes.

TENNIS TEAM



The girls' and boys' tennis teams are in their second year of interscholastic competition.
